Professional Compliance Register

ACOI is approached periodically by employers seeking services or assistance in carrying out work. In order to provide a referral service to members, who may be available for such work, ACOI maintains a register of compliance professionals. This service is provided free of charge to fully paid-up ACOI members only. If you subscribe to this service you will receive job adverts from ACOI.

If you would like to be included on The Professional Compliance Register please complete the application below.
